WATER COMMISSIONERS' REPORT

February 1, 1941

To the Taxpayers of the Town of Raymond:

We submit the following report on receipts and disbursements, which in part, bonds and interest paid.

Repairs on the old pump house also painting outside of the new one. Some additions and changes made on the inside of pump house.

The bill for electricity for pumping the water has been more than last year. This is due to the break downs we had on the old pump and we were forced to shift over and use the new one which has a 60 H. P. motor and is much more expensive to operate.

However, we have been denied the advice and experience of Mr. Herman Clock, who had served two years on the board. We have struggled on and given you the best service we could under the existing conditions.

We are forced to make some changes in our method of collecting money due the water department. For under the present system we feel we have been imposed upon and undue advantage taken by some of our townspeople.

We wish to thank those people who have helped us in any way in giving suggestions and timely advice.

We have made some mistakes of which we are not immune. We admit the outstanding $989.61 is more than it should be and we hope to do better in 1941.

We have instructed our town treasurer to set aside $250.00 for a contingent or sinking fund, so-called.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES F. DEWAN,
FRED A. TRAVER,
Commissioners.

REPORT OF HIGHWAY AGENT

Expenses During the Past Year

This last year we spent a good deal of money for culverts, of which we were badly in need. We laid 224 running feet of concrete pipe of various sizes. Concrete costs a little more than metal but will last a great many more years.

We also bought a sanding machine, which cost $125.00. This is one of the largest savings we have done for some time. It has cut down on labor, the sand covers more area and is spread more evenly and much more quickly. Also in summer we use it to sand tar.

Savings

Right at the last end of the year we had our largest snow storm, causing us to go over most of the roads an extra trip to push it back to make room for more snow if it should come. By doing this we ran over our appropriation a few dollars. The snow around the stores which we had to haul off after each storm, was hauled at just what gas it took to do it.

The tractor has been kept in a heated garage during the winter, which has been heated most of the time at my own expense.

During the coming year, since the department has very little to buy for equipment and tools, I think we can haul considerably more gravel and take care of more bushes and culverts.

I appreciate the cooperation the Selectmen and citizens of the Town of Raymond have given me this past year.

LYMAN R. HAMMOND,
Road Agent.

FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD,

Robert E. Eccleston, Clerk.

February 25, 1941.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Raymond:

My twelfth annual report covers a year of numerous changes in the staff of teachers, progress in curricula revision and methods of instruction, improved equipment, emphasis on nutrition, and recent interest in defense training of out-of-school youth.

Four changes and one addition have occurred in the staff of teachers. The resignations of Miss Rachel Hartford and Miss Josephine DiMauro removed in September from the language department of the high school and from the primary grades respectively, two efficient teachers each of whom had served nine years in your schools. At the same time Mrs. Dorothy S. Lovell, for two years organizer and supervisor of music instruction throughout all twelve grades, withdrew from school work. Elected to these vacancies were Miss Elizabeth H. Ratté of Bradford, Massachusetts, as language teacher and director of physical education for girls; Miss Anne H. Wojnilowicz of Manchester as primary teacher; and Mrs. Doris S. Buswell of Andover, New Hampshire, as supervisor of music. Mrs. Buswell is a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music and of Lowell State Teachers College. For several years she supervised music in the schools of Southbridge, Massachusetts, and later in Rochester, New York. Besides the Raymond schools, Mrs. Buswell has supervision of music in the schools of Andover, Goffstown, and Pembroke including Pembroke Academy.

At the close of the first semester in January, Miss Elizabeth J. Wastcoat, who taught successfully in Grades V and VI for the past year and a half, resigned to accept similar grades in Southbridge, Massachusetts. Miss Winifred A. Sullivan, a 1940 graduate of Worcester State Teachers College, was elected to the position left vacant in Raymond.

When within a year almost a third of the teaching staff has accepted positions that will pay salaries from three to seven hundred dollars in excess of the maximum paid to women teachers in Raymond, we must either consider the upward revision of our salary schedules or become more and more a teacher training center for other schools. The Raymond schedule was adopted eleven years ago. Today the two teachers colleges in this state are not training a sufficient number of elementary teachers to supply our schools. To fill six vacancies in this Union during the present year it has been necessary to employ teachers from neighboring states.

Miss Ruth S. Colby of Litchfield was selected to organize and conduct individual work with a home room group of more than twenty-five children. Activity methods have been particularly successful in enabling the members of this group to find and develop skills through which they come to experience the satisfaction of worthwhile achievement. Although the group is large, it has been possible to give attention to individual differences. Already several pupils have been returned to their regular grades. We expect to return others at the beginning of next year.

In January of this year Mrs. Catherine E. Hammond of Manchester, the leading teacher of lip reading in the state, was selected to give special training, required by legislative act of 1939, to a class of four pupils who are physically handicapped by defective hearing. Mrs. Hammond gives this instruction during two periods a week.

While ample provision is made for high school pupils, who definitely seek college preparatory training, the curricula—particularly in mathematics and social sciences—have been revised to meet more adequately the needs of students who upon graduation from high school are soon to become wage earners.

The superintendent heartily commends the suggestion in your headmaster's report that a unit course in biology be made a part of the program of studies. This unit might well replace a third year of Latin.

Following recommendations of the present and former school boards and of the State Board of Education, necessary improvements in equipment have been made. Several of these are enumerated in the headmaster's report—particularly the complete installation of adequate lights in all elementary and high school rooms.

Twenty double steel lockers, accommodating forty high school pupils, have been placed in the new basement. Additions should be made annually to this type of equipment until individual lockers are available for all pupils in the junior and senior high school.

To replace obsolete machines and to accommodate the numbers in home economics classes, two electric sewing machines will be needed next year. In the commercial department two typewriters should be exchanged for new models, and a new duplicating machine purchased for the headmaster's office.

The home economics classes are meeting the more serious needs for nutrition by serving a complete noon lunch to some forty children. If lunch room accommodations permitted, this number would be doubled. Through the director of surplus commodities we receive for the nutrition of needy children much milk, butter, eggs, bacon, ham, pea beans, rice, cereal, white and graham flour, apples, grapefruit, raisins, and canned peaches. Wherever surplus commodities are used, it is required that all children be served alike. Pupils who are able to pay the cost of their lunch either in money or in materials are accustomed to do so.

Particularly in times of national defense, resistance to disease is considered the prime object of correct nutrition in home and school.

Since the new year your school, among thousands of schools in the United States, has opened its shop and forge rooms to a class of twenty out-of-school youth for defense training courses. The present group of young men from seventeen to twenty-four years of age is engaged fifteen hours a week for eight consecutive weeks in hot and cold metal work and machinery repair. Mr. Oscar M. Lovering, an experienced blacksmith and metal worker, is employed by the government as special instructor. Mr. Sewall W. Gilman, your regular teacher of shop work, is lending valuable assistance.

Through national defense agencies the government furnishes all necessary supplies, and loans to the school tools, machinery, and other equipment not required by the ordinary school classes. Individuals, sending to the school tool projects in iron work, farm machinery to be repaired, specifications for sheet metal and soldering, or even horses to be shod, are assisting in defense training.

An advisory defense committee of local citizens, including Roger E. Elliot, Chairman; Josiah R. Gordon, Clerk; George C. Gove, J. Carlton Kinder, Eli N. Marcotte, and Walter E. Quimby, Jr., is cooperating with local school authorities in the selection of courses, location of experienced instructors, and later placement of the enrolled men in industry.

Anyone who enables these men to find occupations, more or less in the field of individual adaptation or of public need, is a contributor to national security.

In a circular letter, dated December 18, 1940, and addressed to all educators, John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says, "Look at the record: In Germany every employable person at work or in training . . . technical and vocational schools running at capacity in the captive countries . . . skilled workers being shipped into Germany."

Today the first line of American defense begins in its homes, and public schools, and aims for the efficient training and placement of every employable person. The cooperation of every citizen, interested in our American institutions, is needed and appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. HARMON,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF SHOP WORK AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

To the Superintendent and School Board:

During the school year 1939-40 and the school year 1940-41 to February 26, 1941, the following projects were completed in manual training:

- 14 Broom holders
- 8 Tie racks
- 6 Book cases
- 1 Tool chest
- 3 Open top saw horses
- 2 End tables
- 2 Step ladders
- 1 Sand box
- 1 Basketball back board
- 3 Magazine racks
- 3 Table lamps
- 1 Clothes rack
- 1 Rocking horse
- 6 Boot jacks
- 4 Cribbage boards
- 3 Foot stools
- 2 Book shelves
- 6 Book ends
- 1 Store truck rack
- 2 Lawn ornaments

In addition to the above, repairs have been made on various articles such as chairs, stools, and other pieces of furniture.

Some time has been spent in simple mechanical drawing.

In the agricultural shop work the following projects were completed:

- 1 Lathe
- 1 Basketball score board
- 1 Screw and nail cabinet

- 2 Saw horses
- 1 Work bench
- 1 Hot bed frame
- 1 Seesaw
- 15 Cold chisels
- 12 Center and prick punches
- 2 Wrecking bars
- 6 Rope halters
- Assembled one manure spreader
- 1 Coat and hat rack

Besides the above projects, study and repairs have been made on farm machinery, trucks, tractors, hot and cold metal work, soldering, and other phases of farm repair work.

We have participated in all activities sponsored by the State. At the 1940 Hopkinton Fair, Raymond won the High School Sweepstakes Cup, winning first place in the milk judging contest, second in the poultry judging contest, and first place for the best agricultural and shop exhibit. Wingate Harmon was the highest individual scorer in the milk judging and will represent the state in the regional contest at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield. George Purinton, who was third, will act as alternate.

The following supervised farming programs have been completed or are being completed:

REPORT OF HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENTJune, 1940

At Christmas the sophomore cooking class made and sold 19 pounds of fruit cake at twenty cents a pound, netting $3.80.

Beginning in November, when we were studying the breakfast unit, the Foods class prepared and offered for sale a meal at noon. Due to lack of space the number was limited to a maximum of twenty-four. We continued the practice through the luncheon and dinner units, ending in April. By doing this the girls had practice in preparing full size recipes and serving and cleaning up, approximating as nearly as possible a home situation.

The Foods class has had three demonstration lessons this year, on fruit, vegetables, shellfish and fish. I have purchased and prepared foods that were studied in our textbook but were unfamiliar to the students.

For the first time we have had joint classes for the junior and senior boys and girls where we discussed social customs. The Foods class cooperated by serving three teas where the students practiced the social graces. The seniors had a dinner to practice table manners. The menu was planned to give instruction in some of the most common problems of table manners.

The Textile and Clothing class held, according to the requirement of the George Dean Act, its fashion parade and exhibit on June 5. It was held in conjunction with the Junior High Prize Speaking Contest and the proceeds were divided.

The following is a financial statement of the money earned and spent during 1939-1940.

Fall Report, 1940

The Foods class followed its usual custom of canning for people in town who would provide the material. The variety of foods canned gave the girls a wide field of experience.

Amounts canned:

Tomatoes,	143 qts.
Beets,	27½ qts.
Carrots,	21½ qts.
Corn,	9 qts.
Summer squash,	15 qts.
Cabbage,	14 qts.
Tomato juice,	8 qts.
Peaches,	28 qts.
Pears,	42 qts.
Tomato soup,	20 qts.

Plums,	1 qt.
Mustard pickle,	14 qts.
Ripe cucumber pickle,	4 qts.
Pepper relish,	4 qts.
Piccalilli,	60 qts.
Chili sauce,	11 qts.
Total,	422 qts.
Grape jelly,	21 jars
Crab apple jelly,	10 jars
Total,	31 jars

Gifts for the department were received from Mrs. Harriett Richardson and Lewis Holmes so that we were able to can for our own use:

21½ qts.	Carrots
13 qts.	Tomato soup
15 qts.	Beets
40 qts.	Tomatoes
19 qts.	Piccalilli
11 qts.	Chili sauce
14 qts.	Mustard pickle

133½ qts.

The Sewing class purchased and made up 36 yards of material for curtains for the department. They cost $3.90—we used the $1.08 left from June and the instructor made up the difference.

Respectfully submitted,

IBER HOLMES,
Instructor.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER

To the Superintendent and School Board:

The school has been fortunate in securing very capable teachers to take the place of several who have secured positions with higher salaries.

Miss Elizabeth Ratté, graduate with a Master's Degree from Boston University, is teaching languages in the high school and coaching girls' athletics. Miss Anne Wojnilowicz, teacher of grades three and four, is a graduate of Plymouth Teachers College and came to us after teaching a year in Pembroke. The Activity Room is being supervised by Miss Ruth Colby, a teacher with several years' experience and a graduate of Plymouth Teachers College. Mrs. Doris Buswell is teaching music for the entire school and is in Raymond on Tuesdays. During the first half year a student from the University of New Hampshire, Mr. Gaylord Gale, did cadet teaching in agriculture. Recently Miss Winifred Sullivan took over the duties in the fifth and sixth grade room. She graduated from Worcester Normal in 1940 and has been a regular apprentice teacher in Worcester since September.

The selection of teachers has been excellent. They are exceptionally cooperative, industrious and helpful in the administration of the school.

The school has been made more efficient by the installation of lights in several rooms, refinishing the room for the Home Economics Department, covering the basement stairs, new mats at both entrances, the purchase of a phonograph-radio set and the establishment of an activity room. The latter has accomplished better results than anticipated. The progress made in the basic tools of learning has been satisfactory and the development of character and citizenship qualities has been most encouraging.

A set of books received from a friend in Raymond is appreciated greatly. The new encyclopedias have been used extensively throughout the year. The building was thoroughly cleaned and most of it repainted during the summer so it was in very good condition for the opening of school. Especially important was the improvement made in the Physics-Chemistry laboratory.

In June of last year the Athletic Association closed its books with a balance of $24.15. It has succeeded in maintaining a balanced budget thus far this year as a result of receipts at athletic events and the moving picture benefit so kindly put on by Mr. Thayer in the I. O. O. F. hall.

There are two from the class of 1940 attending college—Richard Houghton at Harvard, and Ernest Proulx at Keene Teachers College. All of the eleven graduates are either employed or continuing their education.

Some repairs will be desirable as usual before the opening of school next September. I would suggest that some thought be given as to the advisability of including a unit course in biology as a part of our program of studies. When money is available some reference reading material should be purchased.

The pleasant cooperation from the Superintendent, School Board, the citizens of Raymond, the entire personnel of the school and the pupils has made it possible to stress the fundamentals of learning and to emphasize the desirable traits of character and citizenship.

H. A. YOUNG,
Headmaster.
